ARUP GENETICS

We offer comprehensive testing in all areas of genetics, including molecular genetics, genomics, cytogenetics, genomic microarray, biochemical genetics, and prenatal testing.

Our genetic counselors play an integral role in your patients' care. They are available to review complex, germline genetic test orders for proper utilization, coordinate testing on complex cases, consult on proper test ordering and results interpretation, and tailor reports to patient's family and health history to aid in interpretation and patient care.

Our Integrated Oncology and Genetics team is available 7 days a week to provide client support for issues related to genetic testing, including information about sample requirements, turnaround time, order status, test modifications and cancellations, and exception handling issues.
